1. Overview and purpose

Queensland Treasury Corporation (QTC) is the Queensland Government's central financing authority, holding a statutory mandate to provide financial resources and services to enhance the financial position of the State. Established under the Queensland Treasury Corporation Act 1988 (QTC Act), QTC is a corporation sole, reporting through the Under Treasurer to the Treasurer and Queensland Parliament.

QTC's governance framework is incorporated in the QTC Act, the Instrument of Delegation to the QTC Capital Markets Board (the Board), the Performance and Operating Agreement between QTC and the Board, the Financial Accountability Act 2009, the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994 and Government standards.

The Board is committed to sustaining the high standards of governance, transparency and accountability expected in the public sector and has established and delegated certain authorities and responsibilities to several Board committees to assist in fulfilling its corporate governance responsibilities effectively and efficiently.

This charter sets out the responsibilities, authorities, composition, structure and operation of the Board's Risk and Audit Committee (RAC).

4. Structure and composition

4.1 Composition

The RAC is comprised of at least three Board members. RAC members are appointed by the Board.

4.2 Role of the Chair

The Chair of the RAC is appointed by the Board Chair.

The primary role of the RAC Chair is to:

- chair RAC meetings
- lead the RAC and facilitate constructive and professional contributions by all members, and
- ensure the RAC functions effectively and efficiently as a whole in discharging its responsibilities.

The RAC Chair may resign by signed notice given to the Board Chair.

4.3 Role of Committee members

Members of the RAC are individually responsible to ensure that the RAC fulfills its role as set out in this charter. Members are expected to perform their duties in accordance with the duties and obligations outlined in the QTC Capital Markets Board Charter and QTC's Code of Conduct.

RAC members should understand QTC's organisational structure, operations and industry, together with key developments relevant to the RAC and may receive periodic presentations or assistance to assist with achieving that understanding.

Collectively, the RAC will possess:

- a thorough understanding of the core activities of QTC and the environment in which it operates, including its strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats
- a commitment to the continual improvement of the outputs that QTC delivers and that contribute to the achievement of the Government's priorities
- a high level of understanding of best practice internal control, risk management and corporate governance
- a sound knowledge of information systems and emerging technology, and
- strong business acumen, a high level of competency in financial matters and the ability to analyse complex financial reports.

A RAC member may resign by signed notice given to the RAC Chair, who will advise the Board Chair.

4.4 Role of Company Secretary

The Company Secretary is primarily responsible for ensuring that RAC processes and procedures run efficiently and effectively, and in accordance with high standards of corporate governance and with accepted and mandated requirements.

The Company Secretary's responsibilities include:

- preparing and circulating meeting agendas
- timely distribution/tabling of all papers, reports and other information relevant to the RAC's activities and operations
- accurately recording and maintaining all minutes of the RAC meetings, and
- monitoring and recording completion of actions arising from RAC meetings.

5. Operation

5.1 Meetings

RAC meetings will be held at least four times per calendar year. Dates of meetings should be agreed before the beginning of each calendar year. Meetings may be held in person, or by telephone, video or internet conferencing.

Additional meetings may be convened by any RAC member giving reasonable notice to every other member, together with an agenda for that meeting that has been approved by the Chair.

Board members who are not members of the RAC may attend meetings of the RAC, but may not vote on RAC matters nor act as a proxy for a RAC member unless approved by the Board in writing.

The Company Secretary is a standing attendee at all RAC meetings.

The RAC Chair may request that QTC staff or external parties attend a meeting of the RAC.

5.2 Quorum and decisions

Meetings shall only proceed when a quorum is reached. A majority of members must be present to provide a quorum.

If the Chair is not present at a RAC meeting and has not appointed an Acting Chair, the RAC members must elect a member who is present as Acting Chair for that meeting.

Decisions or recommendations of the RAC will be regarded as its collective decision or recommendation unless there is a material dissension, in which case a minority view will be recorded in the minutes of the meeting and placed before the Board.

At the discretion of the Chair, decisions or recommendations may be made without a RAC meeting if a majority of the members vote 'in favour of' or 'opposed to' the out-of-session recommendation. Out-of-session voting may be undertaken in person or through the use of technology. The outcome of an out-of-session decision or recommendation must be recorded.

5.3 Agenda and papers

As far as practical, the RAC should agree an annual work plan before the beginning of each calendar year, noting that it may consider other or additional matters in response to changes in QTC's operations and environment. The annual meeting plan will cover all the responsibilities of the RAC outlined in this charter.

The agenda for each meeting will be determined by the Chair in consultation with the Company Secretary.

RAC agendas and papers are approved by the RAC Chair prior to circulation to members. Papers are to be distributed at least three business days before each Committee meeting. RAC papers will not be distributed on the day of the RAC meeting unless approved by the Chair.

5.4 Minutes

The RAC must keep minutes that record the proceedings, recommendations, decisions and actions arising from all meetings.

The draft minutes of meetings will be distributed to the Chair for review within a week of the meeting and then to RAC members for review and comment. Draft minutes will then be presented for approval at the next committee meeting.

5.5 Records

All RAC records will be maintained by the Company Secretary.

All RAC papers and approved minutes will be stored in QTC's records management system, and distributed to members through the Board portal.

6. Reporting

The RAC reports to the Board. Recommendations of the RAC will be referred to the Board for approval. RAC decisions and relevant discussions will be presented to the Board for noting.

The RAC monitors risks relating to compliance and audit, and reports to the Board on QTC's holistic risk profile.

As soon as practicable after the end of each financial year, the RAC will provide the Board with a report that summarises the RAC's performance and achievements over the year. This satisfies the requirement of Section 30(5) of the Financial and Performance Management Standard 2019.

6.1 Relationship with other committees

To the extent there is any overlap in the responsibilities of the RAC and the other Board committees, those committees will deal with the overlap in an appropriate manner and will refer any issues that relate more appropriately to another committee to that other committee. If unresolved, final determination will be made by the Board Chair.

7. Performance

In order to ensure that the RAC is fulfilling its duties, it will:

- undertake an annual self-assessment of its performance against the requirements of this charter, and
- provide any information in relation to RAC performance and membership to the Board.

The RAC will review this charter at least every two years to ensure it remains current and consistent with good governance practice and with QTC requirements. Any proposed changes will be recommended to the Board for approval.
