Australia's federal, state and local government system

Three levels of government

Alongside the national government (the 'Australian Government' or 'Commonwealth'), Australia has six state and two territory governments as well as more than 530 local councils.

These three levels of government – federal, state and local – each have different revenue raising powers and spending responsibilities. There can be some overlap in these responsibilities.

States have a diverse mix of revenues including tax and non-tax sources as well as grants from the Commonwealth. These revenues are used to deliver operating (health, education) and capital expenditure (roads, hospitals, schools).

Australian Government

Key revenue sources

Income tax, company tax, fringe benefits tax, superannuation tax, resource rent taxes, excise and customs duties.

Responsibilities

Defence, immigration, foreign policy, currency, universities, Medicare.

State Government

Federal fiscal support to Australian States

The Australian Government provides explicit and predictable financial support to all states in the form of:

- General purpose payments – ‘untied’ grants which are funded by the Goods and Services Tax (GST) revenue and are used for both recurrent and capital purposes.
- Payments for specific purposes – ‘tied’ grants to fund specific projects or programs in order to support service delivery and facilitate reforms.
- Disaster Recovery Funding Arrangements – partial (up to 75 per cent) reimbursement for eligible costs incurred from natural disasters, are also classified as a payment for specific purposes.

Distribution of GST

- States and territories (states) receive all revenue collected by the Australian Government via the Goods and Services Tax (GST).
- It is allocated using the principles of horizontal fiscal equalisation, which is designed to equalise the states’ fiscal capacity to provide public services to a similar standard.

Examples of why there might be differences between states in raising revenue and in spending

Revenue

Amount of minerals within a state’s borders

Affects the amount of royalties collected

Number and value of residential and commercial land or properties

Affects the amount of land tax and stamp duty collected

Wages paid by businesses

Affects the amount of payroll tax collected

Expenses

Number of elderly people

Requires more health services

Number and location of remote and regional areas

It is more expensive to provide services and infrastructure in these locations

Number of school children

Queensland Government Charter of Fiscal Responsibility

The Charter outlines the key financial principles that guide the government's fiscal objectives.

- Principle 1: Stabilise the Non-financial Public Sector debt to revenue ratio and General Government Sector net debt to revenue ratio at sustainable levels in the medium term and target reductions in the debt to revenue ratio in the long term.
- Principle 2: Ensure that average annual growth in General Government Sector expenditure in the medium term is below the average annual growth in General Government Sector revenue to deliver fiscally sustainable net operating surpluses.
- Principle 3: Target continual improvements in net operating surpluses to ensure that, in the medium term, net cash flows from investments in non-financial assets will be funded primarily from net cash inflows from operating activities. The capital program will focus on supporting a productive economy, jobs, and ensuring a pipeline of infrastructure that responds to population growth.
- Principle 4: Maintain competitive taxation by ensuring that, on a per capita basis, Queensland has lower taxation than the average of other states.
- Principle 5: Target the full funding of long-term liabilities such as superannuation and workers' compensation in accordance with actuarial advice.
- Principle 6: Target productivity improvements across the private and public sectors to increase living standards for Queenslanders over the medium term.

Queensland funding of long-term liabilities

- Full funding of superannuation and other long-term liabilities is a long-standing Queensland Government priority and a key element of financial management.
- Queensland's defined benefit scheme has a surplus funding position of $10 billion at 30 June 2024 using the expected rate of return on scheme assets and over $7 billion in surplus at 30 June 2024 using the Australian Government bond yield.
- The superannuation liability for funding purposes is lower than on an accounting basis because the expected return on assets of the superannuation fund is currently greater than the Australian Government's bond yield.

The Queensland Coat of Arms, represented in Queensland Treasury Corporation's logo, was granted by Queen Victoria in 1893 and symbolises her constitutional authority for the State.

At the top, the State badge is surrounded by two stems of sugar cane. Below the badge, the shield features the heads of a bull and a merino ram, a sheaf of wheat, and a column of gold rising from a pile of quartz, over a spade and pick. These elements symbolise Queensland's strong agricultural and mining industries.

In 1977, during her Silver Jubilee year, Queen Elizabeth II granted the Arms two 'supporters', a red deer and Queensland's native brolga.

The State motto, Audax at Fidelis, means 'Bold but Faithful'.
